

Alecia

Speech Pathology
QLD

Alecia is a paediatric Speech Pathologist who uses a functional, neurodiversity-affirming approach to support children's communication, literacy, and social skills in meaningful everyday contexts.

Alecia has a strong focus on functional communication, supporting clients to develop skills that enhance independence and participation in everyday life.

Alecia works primarily in paediatric speech pathology, providing assessment and intervention across speech, language, literacy, and social communication. She utilises a neurodiversity-affirming, evidence-informed approach, with therapy tailored to each child's strengths, needs, and functional goals.

She is experienced in using comprehensive and dynamic assessment to guide clinical decision-making and values collaborative, family-centred practice. Alecia prioritises working closely with families to ensure therapy is individualised, goal-directed, and relevant to real-life contexts.

Alecia enjoys delivering community-based therapy, where working within home and everyday environments allows for more practical application of skills and meaningful outcomes.

Clinical Interests

- Paediatric speech pathology
- Speech and language development
- Literacy intervention
- Social communication
- Neurodiversity-affirming practice
- Functional, goal-directed therapy
- Dynamic and comprehensive assessment
- Family-centred and collaborative care
- Community-based intervention

Personal Interests

- Baking
- Crafting
- Camping

