

Alyssa

Occupational Therapist
QLD

Alyssa is an Occupational Therapist who is passionate about helping people in a holistic and meaningful way with a special interest in neurological rehabilitation.

Alyssa is a creative and compassionate Occupational Therapist who was drawn to the profession through her passion for helping others in a holistic and meaningful way. She values the unique blend of creativity and clinical practice that Occupational Therapy offers, and is dedicated to supporting individuals to live more independent and fulfilling lives.

She has a particular interest in neurological rehabilitation, especially working with individuals who have experienced stroke or traumatic brain injury. As a new graduate, Alyssa is enthusiastic about continuing to develop her clinical skills across a variety of areas while building strong, person-centred foundations in her practice.

Alyssa prioritises building trust with her clients by actively listening to their stories and ensuring they feel heard, understood, and involved in their therapy journey. She enjoys working in community settings, where seeing clients in their home environments allows for a deeper understanding of their needs and supports more meaningful, functional outcomes.

Clinical Interests

- Neurological rehabilitation
- Stroke recovery
- Traumatic brain injury (TBI)
- Holistic, person-centred care
- Community-based therapy
- Functional, home-based interventions
- Early career skill development across diverse caseloads

Personal Interests

- Spending time with friends and family
- Walking
- Dining out
- Beach trips
- Camping

