

Jayden

Occupational Therapist
VIC

Jayden is an Occupational Therapist specialising in paediatric care, supporting children with ADHD and autism, community-based therapy to help individuals achieve meaningful goals.

Jayden is a passionate Occupational Therapist who has held a strong interest in the health industry from a young age, driven by curiosity about the human body and how it functions. He is particularly drawn to the diversity of Occupational Therapy, valuing the opportunity to engage in a wide range of meaningful, client-centred interventions where no two days are the same.

As a new graduate, Jayden is enthusiastic about working across a variety of clinical areas and is committed to continually developing his clinical reasoning and assessment skills. Through his university placements, he has gained valuable experience working with paediatric clients, particularly those diagnosed with ADHD and autism.

Jayden prioritises building strong therapeutic relationships by actively listening to his clients, valuing their perspectives, and incorporating feedback into therapy. He focuses on creating goals that are meaningful to both clients and their families, ensuring interventions are practical and aligned with their everyday lives.

He has a strong interest in community-based practice and enjoys working within clients' home environments.

Clinical Interests

- Paediatric Occupational Therapy
- ADHD and Autism support
- Community-based and home-based interventions
- Functional, goal-directed therapy
- Client-centred practice
- Building therapeutic relationships
- Developing clinical reasoning and assessment skills
- Early career skill development across diverse caseloads

Personal Interests

- Going to the gym
- Watching the footy
- Spending time with family