

Luc

Occupational Therapist
QLD

Luc is an Occupational Therapist who supports individuals to maximise independence and participation through person-centred rehabilitation, functional interventions, and community-based care.

Luc is an Occupational Therapist who is passionate about supporting individuals to improve their independence, function, and overall quality of life through holistic, person-centred care.

Luc has a strong interest in rehabilitation, particularly neurological rehabilitation, and enjoys working collaboratively with clients to develop practical, goal-focused interventions. He is passionate about helping clients engage in meaningful activities through tailored therapy, equipment prescription, and home modifications that support safety, accessibility, and independence.

He values building strong therapeutic relationships by listening to what is most important to each client and involving them in every stage of the therapy process. Luc takes a collaborative approach to care planning, ensuring clients feel informed, empowered, and supported when making decisions about their therapy and goals.

He is committed to ongoing professional development and is particularly interested in continuing to grow his skills in neurological rehabilitation, paediatrics, and NDIS-related practice as he expands his experience within the Australian community healthcare sector.

Clinical Interests

- Neurological rehabilitation
- Stroke rehabilitation
- Functional rehabilitation
- Equipment prescription
- Home modifications
- Paediatrics
- NDIS-related practice
- Community-based Occupational Therapy
- Goal-directed interventions
- Holistic, person-centred care

Personal Interests

- Going to the gym
- Playing golf
- Going to the beach
- Watching sports
- Hiking and outdoor activities
- Exploring the Gold Coast

