

Terry

Occupational Therapist
QLD

Terry is an occupational therapist whose background in teaching and public service informs a deeply person-centred approach to NDIS community OT, specialising in functional assessments, assistive technology, and home modifications.

Previously working as a secondary school teacher and civil servant in Hong Kong, those experiences cultivated a deep appreciation for working with people from all walks of life, and when Terry discovered occupational therapy, its holistic, client-centred philosophy felt like a natural fit. Today, Terry channels that same commitment to supporting people in reaching their potential into practical, goal-focused OT that makes a genuine difference to clients' confidence and quality of life.

Terry specialises in NDIS community occupational therapy, with a particular focus on functional capacity assessments, assistive technology prescription, and home modifications. His approach is structured yet flexible, always tailored to the individual's goals and functional needs rather than a one-size-fits-all framework. Central to his practice is patience, taking the time to truly listen, involve clients in decision-making, and ensure every recommendation is grounded in what matters most to that person.

Working in the community is something Terry genuinely values. The variety that comes with seeing clients in their own environments provides a much richer understanding of their real challenges and needs, and allows therapy to be practical, relevant, and immediately applicable to everyday life.

Clinical Interests

- NDIS community occupational therapy
- Functional capacity assessments
- Assistive technology prescription
- Home modifications
- Complex NDIS cases
- Broad diagnostic and presentation experience

Personal Interests

- Badminton (playing and coaching)
- Motorbike riding
- Travelling and exploring new places
- Technology and audio equipment
-

