

Matthew

Podiatrist
QLD

Matthew is an experienced Podiatrist across private practice, aged care, and community settings, combining his genuine care for people with his dual qualifications in podiatry and sport and exercise science to deliver supportive, personalised footcare for every client.

Matthew is an experienced Podiatrist with six years of clinical practice spanning private clinics, residential aged care, and community care settings. Holding dual degrees in Podiatry (2019) and Sport and Exercise Science (2016) from Queensland University of Technology, he brings a well-rounded understanding of lower-limb function, mobility, and preventative healthcare.

Matthew has developed strong expertise in general footcare, diabetic assessments, and geriatric podiatry, with a focus on improving comfort, reducing risk, and supporting clients to stay active and independent. He is committed to patient-centred care, taking the time to educate, empower, and tailor treatment to each individual's lifestyle and long-term health goals.
