

Nedjo

Occupational Therapist
QLD

Nedjo is an Occupational Therapist who specialises in paediatric and community-based therapy, helping clients build independence, develop skills, and optimise their home and social environments.

Nedjo is a dedicated Occupational Therapist with a passion for helping clients live as independently and meaningfully as possible. He saw firsthand the transformative impact of occupational therapy and continues to be motivated by supporting clients to engage fully in their daily lives.

Nedjo works with a diverse range of clients, supporting goals across fine motor skills, emotional regulation, social skills, and home modifications. He particularly enjoys using play-based therapy with paediatric clients, integrating their interests into sessions to enhance engagement and outcomes. His client-centred approach focuses on building trust, ensuring clients feel heard, supported, and empowered throughout therapy.

Specialising in community-based therapy, Nedjo leverages his local knowledge to understand clients' home and community environments, enabling tailored interventions, equipment recommendations, and home modifications.

Professional Special Interests

- Paediatric therapy (play-based approaches)
- Fine motor skills development
- Emotional regulation
- Social skills development
- Home modifications and equipment recommendations
- Community-based therapy
- Client engagement and empowerment

Personal Interests:

- Spending time with friends
- Playing tennis and table tennis
- Video games